point long island tables product information

Offered through a partnership with Point Outdoor in Alicante, Spain, Long Island is designed by Christophe Pillet and is a timeless classic you will never suspect can be used outdoors. Pillet's goal was to "make it as desirable and as well finished as a piece of indoor furniture with a similarly detailed design."

Eminently versatile, Point Long Island adds a universal elegance to any indoor or outdoor lounge environment with thin occasional tables that round out the functionality of this line.

These tables feature a thin profile with a solid or marbled HPL surface on a solid core, making them durable and suitable for use indoors or left outside exposed to the elements.
